M A T E R

Conductor's score arranged
by Mary Leila Gardner

This is a handwritten musical score for a piece titled "MATER". The score is written on ten staves, likely representing different instrumental parts. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings. The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is 4/4. The score is arranged by Mary Leila Gardner. The notation is handwritten and includes several dynamic markings such as f (forte), sfz (sforzando), sfz unis (sforzando unison), and divisi (divisi). There are also markings for arco (arco) and cym. (cymbal). The score is written on a single page and shows the first four measures of the piece.

DEDICATION

No lore of Greece or Rome,
 No science peddling with the names of things,
 Or reading stars to find inglorious fates,
 Can lift our life with wings
 Far from Death's idle gulf that for the many waits.

Annual Staff Is Knocking Itself Out To Give Big, High-quality Yearbook

Picture-making for the annual, mighty fancy job. Don't see how which was off to a slow start in the last week of the fall semester ended with a rush of people or more jammed studio on the final day was turned away.

Individuals will count me out." Pictures will be pasted ready. The annual first batches of glossy paste up panels for some time this week.

The faculty section worked first. Not members will be in dialogue about the new running some lows:

Staff: "Have you made for the annual yet?"

Prof.: "Nope. Just go ahead and use last year's plate."

Staff: "Don't see how we can. It's much too small for this year's larger page size. Furthermore it was a cheap zinc plate, and corrosion is already pitting the surface."

Prof.: "I'm satisfied with last year's picture. Get another print from the studio and go ahead."

Staff: "We have no legal dealings with any studio except the successful bidder on this year's contract."

Prof.: "Oh, red tape. Suppose I get a print and turn it in. Could you use that?"

Staff: "I doubt if you would be satisfied when you saw how it looked, because it would not match the others in head-height, face-size, background-color, and cropping."

Prof.: "Hn! Sounds like a

Heavy Shop-talk At Delta State

The Faculty Study Programs at Delta State Teachers College deals with "internal administration and curriculum change."

The program as announced by Dr. William H. Ziegel, dean of the faculty and head of the department of Education, runs as follows for 1945-46.

General administrative policies—W. M. Kethley, president.

The work of the faculty and of the dean of girls in counseling—Mrs. E. O. Hunt, dean of women and assistant in the department of physical education.

Plans for speech and radio work at Delta State Teachers College—Mrs. Mary Jo Thomas, assistant professor of speech, and Paul R. M., associate professor and assistant in the department of physical education.

International Relations Lecturer, Dr. R. A. McEmore, of Mississippi Southern College, is giving the visit to the

Frederick Taylor nationally recognized American President of the

He speaks on Monday 14 at 7:45 in the auditorium. The subject will be "Pen Presidents."

A free lance writer and lecturer, Dr. Wilson probably addresses more schools, colleges, universities, and civic clubs than any other private citizen in the nation. He speaks to State Legislatures, summer assemblies and in churches of various faiths. His speeches often appear in the Congressional Record.

Dr. R. A. McEmore who is sponsor of the IRC announces that this lecture is open to the general public and states "We feel fortunate in scheduling an engagement with Dr. W.

as his annual tour is being solid." Dr. McEmore adds he "hoped everyone would themselves of the opportunity to hear an inspiring speaker whose thorough research has made him a master of his subjects."

Tickets may be obtained from the members of the International Relations club, at Winthrop campus and the Owens in town. The admission is fifty cents for adults and five cents for children.

The number of men students on the campus has increased over 100%. The student aim is "to provide at least one man to every girl."

In addition to the regular college students there are a number of students enrolled in correspondence courses and in extension work. Counting the students enrolled in the demonstration school it is estimated that approximately one thousand individuals are receiving a service from the college this quarter.

As we go to press, the Mississippi Southern band—inactive during the war years—is being revived under the direction of Professor James Byron Peterson, graduate of the Eastman School of Music, who comes from the University of Omaha.

ORGAN

Another late bulletin reports the coming of Professor Frank K. Hruby, also a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, to be college organist. He will teach courses in the new curriculum leading to a degree in organ and sacred music.

CHRISTIAN

The Christian Federation unites the activities of all religious groups on the campus. Its executive council is composed of two elected representatives of the student body who serve as chairman and vice-chairman, and the presidents of all religious organizations on the campus. The Federation works through a number of committees whose chairmen form the Federation Cabinet.

The Mu Omega sorority was organized in 1937 by a group of thirteen girls. It received its name from Rev. James Sells, then pastor of the Court Street Methodist church. Going into its eleventh year as an organization, the sorority has been a constant source of pleasure to its members and it is the desire of every member to continue this trend by future members fitting in well with the group and its aims and standards.

During Mu Omega's time on campus, it has been an outstanding leader in all activities. Its entertainments and dances are among the best given and will long be remembered, not only by the members, but those who were guests at the affairs.

The sorority was the first on campus to give a costume party, the first to sponsor an edition of the Student Printz, and it is the second oldest organization on campus. The State Collegians played for two consecutive years at the Mu Omega spring formals but during the war the dances had to be given up.

Among the social activities that were enjoyed last year by the Mu Omega sorority were: a comic strip party at the lodge, a wiener roast, a Christmas party, a dinner at Jules Landry, and dinner at the Pickwick Cafe with a theatre party afterwards.

Calls to military service during the war years almost forced Zeta Sigma to suspend its organization. That prospect was narrowly averted by the return of veterans in 1945-46.

Already it seems long ago when all the men on the campus could be housed in the few vacant rooms of the college Hospital. Reopening the Rock as a dormitory for men was a memorable occasion, almost a page in the history of Zeta Sigma.

SIGMA

In those days, although the chapter could well meet in the room of any member, the War Memorial Building at the campus gate served as a fraternity house. In those days a fraternity could have any number of sweethearts it might choose to elect. In those days a moonlight hay-ride was something to look forward to and talk about for weeks afterwards.

WINTER FORMAL

The annual winter formal, celebrating Valentine Day, was the occasion for announcing results of the campus popularity contest.

From a giant box of candy, opened by Peggy McGough, president of the student body, emerged Tommy Harrington and Margaret Rawls as King and Queen of Hearts, followed by their attendants.

Included in their court were the campus superlatives: C. J. Taylor, best athlete; Wanda Mitchell, most naive; Sawyer Sims, best dressed boy; Betsy Prescott, most versatile girl; Jimmy Anderson, best politician; June Carley, most collegiate girl; Harrison Grantham, freshman most likely to succeed; Frances Fertitta, most sophisticated.

Honored especially were the winners of the beauty contest, selected by John Robert Powers.

Jean Marie Curry was chosen most beautiful, and the runners-up were Annie Laurie Roberts, Laduski Webb, Joy Dorsett, and Joyce Saxon.

The crown bearers were little Charlotte Frasca and Bill Johnson.

The students danced to music provided by the Blue Serenaders of Morton, Miss. The college gymnasium was gaily decorated for the occasion.

Conductor's score arranged
by Mary Leila Gardner

A handwritten musical score for a piece titled "MATER". The score is written on ten staves, likely representing different instrumental parts. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, accidentals (sharps, flats, naturals), and dynamic markings. The score is organized into measures by vertical bar lines. The handwriting is in dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. The title "MATER" is written in large, bold, block letters at the top left. To the right of the title, the text "Conductor's score arranged by Mary Leila Gardner" is printed in a smaller, serif font. The score itself begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The first staff has a series of notes, some with accidentals, and a dynamic marking of "f". The second staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The third staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The fourth staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The fifth staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The sixth staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The seventh staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The eighth staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The ninth staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The tenth staff has a dynamic marking of "f" and a series of notes. The score includes various dynamic markings such as "f", "sfz", "cym.", and "divisi". The notation is dense and detailed, typical of a conductor's score.
